Write a poem about the life cycle of an animal of your choice.		Describe the differences in the life cycles of a mammal, an amphibian, an insect and a bird.		Find out and record information about a London landmark that you have never been to before.
Design a WANTED poster for a famous highwayman and include a list of their crimes.		Create a helpful game or song to help learn the 12 times tables.		Create a detailed map of your home and the surrounding area.
Write a diary entry from the pov of someone who has been robbed by a highwayman.		Go on a nature walk and make observations of different plants and insects. Can you take photographs?		Write a poem about your favourite part of London. Include an illustration.
Create a glossary of all the old-fashioned words in The Highwayman poem. Write down their meanings.		Write a set of instructions on how to make sea water drinkable.		Create a model of a section of land that shows human and physical characteristics.
Turn one chapter of your favourite book into a play-script. Remember to lay it out correctly.		Create a board game that is based on different kinds of shapes.		Using cut-out pieces of paper (including newspapers and magazines), create a collage of a London scene. You can include people, too!
Design an advertisement for a visit to a famous London landmark.		Draw a labelled diagram of the life cycle of an animal of your choice.		Draw a map of what Grove Park looked like one hundred years ago. You will have to research this first.
