In Year 3, the children will be exploring how Great Britain has evolved over the centuries. This topic will help the children compare their lives now with life in the Stone Age. How? They will become time-travellers and will explore life in the Stone Age, where people had to hunt and gather their food...not just go to the supermarket!

The children will have the opportunity to use a range of general and specific vocabulary, improve their enquiry and questioning skills. They will read Stone Age themed stories, information books, re-tell stories, as well as becoming budding journalists who will write their own newspaper reports and recounts.
